Dear Dr. Morison:

Many thanks for your letter of March 3rd, saying that you would consider our application of February 14th and 19th after your return from an out-of-town trip.

We are venturing to propose now that we should postpone that application for one year, if you will allow us to do so. We can carry on with the work next year in a smaller way, as we are doing it now. Some alterations are necessary in the make up of the group to study the psychiatric aspects of the problem and it seems likely that Dr. Lamar Roberts will be called into Military service.

Dr. Jasper and I are anxious to work out the preliminary stages of this study and establish it on a secure footing before asking for your support.

I apologize for the inconvenience that we may have caused you and hope that you will be willing to consider this a postponement of consideration.

Sincerely yours,
