Dear Jack:

I have been trying to get over to see you, but it always seems to get postponed.

I am enclosing a carbon copy of my letter to Ottawa recently. By telephone, they have agreed to its terms. Do look it over and do some studying of the financial aspects of the situation. We can get somewhere between 30 and 50 beds in the Field House. The whole problem of the financial arrangements with the Services and the Department of Pensions and National Health calls for a recommendation. This will give you something to think about in your odd moments.

As ever yours,

W.P.
