

She went to the fishmonger's
To buy him some fish;
When she came back,
He was licking the dish.

She went to the ale-house
To buy him some beer;
And when she came back,
He sat in a chair.

The Bear and the Tiger
Came where they were hid;
They all of them scampered,
Without being bid.

OLD
AND HER DOG.

BANBURY:

Printed by J. G. Risher.

She went to the hatter's
To buy him a hat ;
When she came back,
He was feeding the cat.

She went to the tailor's
To buy him a coat ;
And when she came back,
He was riding the goat.

The dame had been broiling
Some meat t'other day,
Prin's mother came in,
And took it away.

The dame made a curtesy,
Prin and Puss made a bow ;
The dame said "Your servant !"
The dog said "Bow-wow !"

She went to the barber's
To buy him a wig ;
When she came back,
He was dancing a jig.

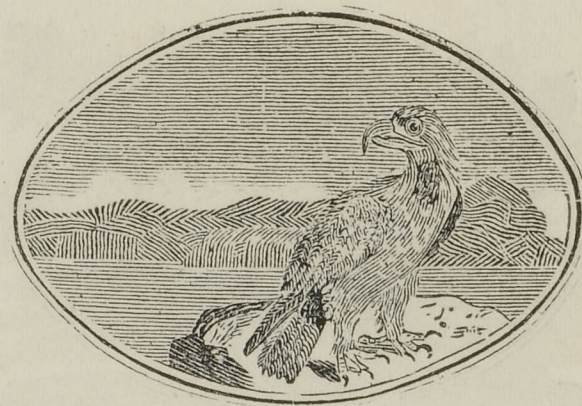

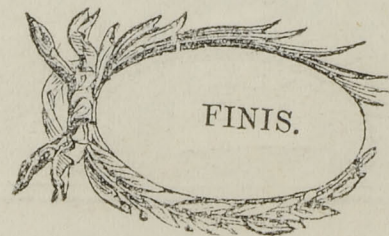

She went to the seamstress
To buy him some linen ;
And when she came back,
The dog began spinning.

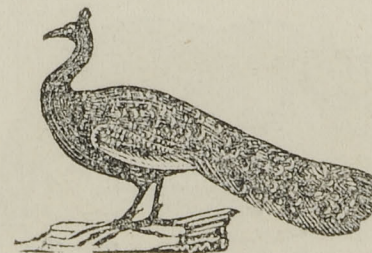

Old Mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard,
To give the poor dog a bone;
When she came there
The cupboard was bare,
And so the poor dog had none.
She went to the baker's
To buy him some bread ;
When she came back,
She thought he was dead.

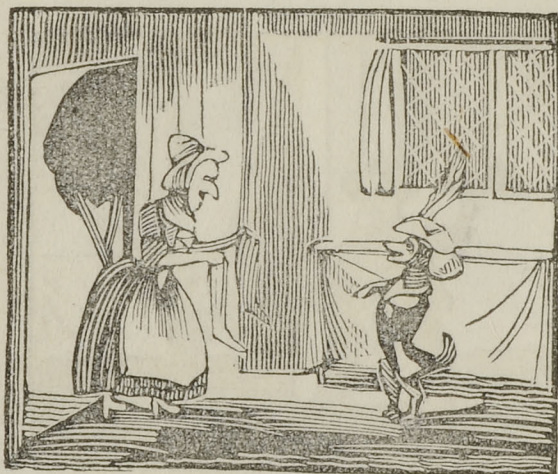

We'll ride a cock-horse
To Banbury-cross,
To see Mother Hubbard
Ride on a white horse ;
Rings on her fingers,
And bells on her toes,
That she may have music
Wherever she goes.

The Eagle came next,
And Peacock so gay ;
They both were alarmed,
And both flew away.

She went to the joiner's
To buy him a coffin ;
And, when she came back,
The dog began laughing.
She went to the tavern
For white wine and red ;
When she came back,
He stood on his head.

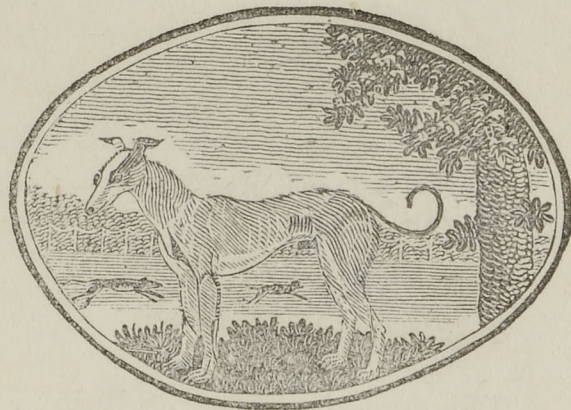

She went to the hosier's
To buy him some hose ;
When she came back,
He was drest in his clothes.

She went out to purchase
Pens, paper, and ink ;
And when she came back,
He'd gathered a pink.

She took a clean dish
To buy him some tripe ;
When she came back,
He was smoking a pipe.

She went for a rabbit,
To make him a pie ;
When she came back,
The dame said " Good bye !"

As Prin had been busy,
With tripe, fish and wine,
He sent invitation
To Greyhound to dine.

And he brought a neighbour,
To gamble and play ;
One nodded " Good morning !"
And t'other " Good day !"

She went to the fruiterer's
To buy him some fruit ;
When she came back,
He was playing the flute.

She went to the shoe-mart
To buy him some shoes ;
And when she came back,
He sat reading the news.
