

WESTERN CANADA
LOTTERY FOUNDATION

10TH

ANNUAL REPORT
APRIL 1, 1983 TO MARCH 31, 1984

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

The Western Canada Lottery Foundation enters its tenth year with continued new record levels of sales and net revenue.

The fiscal year 1984 saw the Foundation exceed its expected sales forecasts with sales topping $350 million which marks an increase of over 47 percent from the previous fiscal year. Net revenue at 33 percent ($116.2 million) was distributed to the Western provincial governments who are the shareholders of the Foundation.

The primary catalyst which fueled the significant sales growth was the resounding success of the Canada-wide LOTTO 6/49 game. Since its inception in June 1982, LOTTO 6/49 has quickly vaulted into the leading game in Western Canada, accounting for nearly 40 percent of all sales. Contributing factors to this rapid sales growth were the introduction of combination and subscription play features, an expanded terminal network and, of course, the national and international publicity which surrounded the phenomenon of the LOTTO 6/49 Jackpot building to $13.9 million (tax free) in January 1984.

As for the balance of the Foundation products, the combined traditional games — WESTERN EXPRESS, PROVINCIAL and SUPER LOTO — experienced a marginal erosion of sales (10 percent) which was more than offset by the continued sales growth of INSTANT lottery games.

While enjoying significant sales growth over the past three years, we anticipate an even brighter future.

During its tenth anniversary year, the Foundation will see the introduction of a second on-line game, LOTTO WEST, drawn at mid-week. LOTTO WEST will be designed as a 6 of 8 of 56 game where the players will be asked to select 6 numbers from a field of 56 numbers with 8 winning numbers being drawn.

Further sales growth is forecasted in both LOTTO 6/49 and the INSTANT games, as well as through the offering of a proposed special one-time Tenth Anniversary game.

Major projects to be undertaken in the new fiscal year include a much greater emphasis on retailer development, training and the creation of a standard retailer identity within the marketplace. As well, a continued commitment to the development and implementation of computer applications, such as the portable Route Management micro computer, will enable the Foundation to strive for optimum operating efficiencies.

A potential cloud on the horizon for the Foundation continues to be the Government of Canada. They are proceeding with plans to re-enter the lottery field despite a legal agreement signed in 1979, stating that in exchange for an annual sum of money (now nearly $35 million) they would not compete with the provinces in lotteries.

The Western Canada Lottery Foundation looks forward to even greater successes in the upcoming year.

Yours sincerely,

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of the Western Canada Lottery Foundation:

We have examined the combined balance sheet of the Western Canada Lottery Foundation and its related lottery organizations as at March 31, 1984 and the combined statements of operations and changes in amounts due to Provincial Governments or appointed organizations for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these combined financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Western Canada Lottery Foundation and its related lottery organizations as at March 31, 1984 and the results of its operations and the changes in amounts due to Provincial Governments or appointed organizations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting principles described in note 2 to the combined financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

WESTERN CANADA LOTTERY FOUNDATION AND ITS RELATED LOTTERY ORGANIZATIONS

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

MARCH 31, 1984

1. NATURE OF THE FOUNDATION

The Western Canada Lottery Foundation was incorporated under Part II of the Canada Corporations Act on May 13th, 1974. The Provincial Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia are members in the Foundation, and the Yukon Territory and the Northwest Territories participate with them as associate members in the sale of lottery tickets.

Under the terms of its incorporation, the Foundation is responsible for the conduct and management of lottery games in Western Canada. The WESTERN EXPRESS and instant lottery games are conducted solely by the Foundation and the Foundation participates in the conduct of the PROVINCIAL, SUPER LOTO, and LOTTO 6/49 lotteries through the Interprovincial Lottery Corporation. The Interprovincial Lottery Corporation is incorporated under the Canada Business Corporation Act, and its shares are held by Her Majesty the Queen in right of the respective provinces. The Western Canada Lottery Foundation is the Regional Marketing Organization for the PROVINCIAL, SUPER LOTO, and LOTTO 6/49 in the four western provinces. The Ontario Lottery Corporation, Loto-Quebec, and the Atlantic Lottery Corporation are the Regional Marketing Organizations in Ontario, Quebec and the Atlantic provinces, respectively.

2. ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

The financial statements of the Foundation and related organizations have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles that are considered appropriate for an organization of this type. The more significant of these accounting principles are summarized below:

a) Principles of combination

In addition to the financial position of the Western Canada Lottery Foundation and the results of its operations, the combined financial statements include the costs of delivery of lottery tickets incurred by related lottery organizations in each province or territory and their related assets and liabilities.

b) Accounting for the expenses of the PROVINCIAL and SUPER LOTO

As the Foundation is a Regional Marketing Organization for the PROVINCIAL and SUPER LOTO, it pays the cost of prizes and ticket printing for the PROVINCIAL and SUPER LOTO draws to the Interprovincial Lottery Corporation. These costs ($114,951,505), and the Foundation's share of the Interprovincial Lottery Corporation's administrative and advertising expenses ($863,623), and interest revenue ($1,809,916), are reflected in the expenses and interest revenue in the combined statement of operations.

c) Deferred revenue

Revenue and expenses related to draws held during the year ended March 31, 1984 are included in the combined statement of operations on an accrual basis. Net receipts from the sale of lottery tickets related to drawings held subsequent to March 31, 1984 have been recorded as deferred revenue.

d) Capital expenditures

The organization has adopted a capitalization policy such that major capital expenditures will not significantly affect the income distribution to the beneficiaries. Therefore, capital purchases which materially affect income are capitalized and amortized on a straight line basis over a period of five years. Other capital expenditures are charged to current operations at the time of acquisition.

3. LOTTERY SALES

Sales revenue by product is as follows:

| | 1984 | 1983 |
|------------|----------------------|----------------------|
| LOTTO 6/49 | $131,558,324 | $ 27,937,891 |
| EXPRESS | 70,613,450 | 80,839,725 |
| SUPER LOTO | 63,715,850 | 66,435,060 |
| PROVINCIAL | 51,054,605 | 55,526,530 |
| INSTANT | 33,534,629 | 6,685,361 |
| | $350,476,858 | $237,424,567 |

4. SALES AND DISTRIBUTION EXPENSES

Sales and distribution expenses include expenses of related lottery organizations in the amount of $8,172,903 (1983: $6,988,790) which represent provincial costs related to the distribution of lottery tickets to retailers.

Comparative figures include distributor commissions in the amount of $3,134,311 which represent monies paid to distributors in certain jurisdictions prior to a change in the system of ticket distribution.

5. PAYMENT TO THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The Interprovincial Lottery Corporation has agreed to make quarterly payments of $6,000,000 in 1979 dollars to the Government of Canada as a result of an agreement between the Provincial Governments and the Federal Government on the withdrawal of the Federal Government from the lottery field. The Foundation, as a Regional Marketing Organization of the Interprovincial Lottery Corporation remits the four western provinces' share of the above payments to the Interprovincial Lottery Corporation.

During the year, the formula for determining the four western provinces' share of the payment to the Federal Government was changed from a basis of sales to a basis of population, which resulted in a lower share being paid.

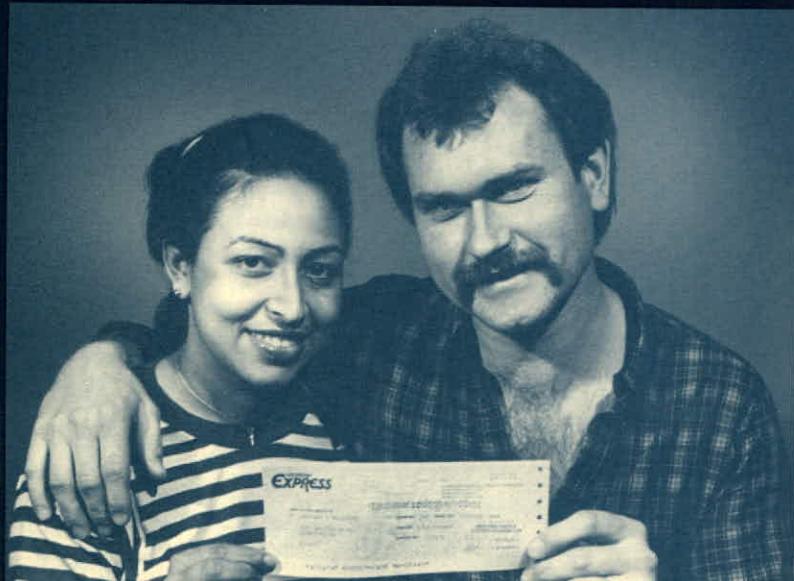

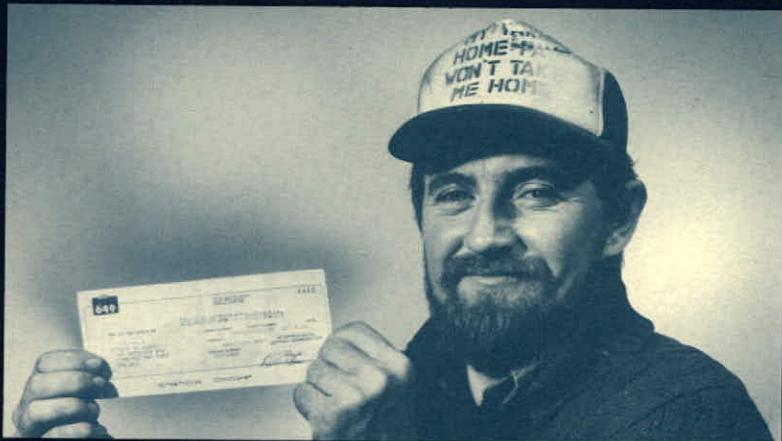

6. FUNDS RETAINED BY THE FOUNDATION ON BEHALF OF ALBERTA

The province of Alberta directed the Foundation to retain a portion of the province's share of the current year's distributable revenue in the amount of $17,141,295. In addition, interest was earned on these funds in the amount of $571,479 which was credited directly to the province rather than to interest revenue. At March 31, 1984, funds held on behalf of the province amounted to $17,712,774.

7. COMPARATIVE FIGURES

The comparative financial statements have been reclassified from statements previously presented to conform to the presentation of the 1984 financial statements.

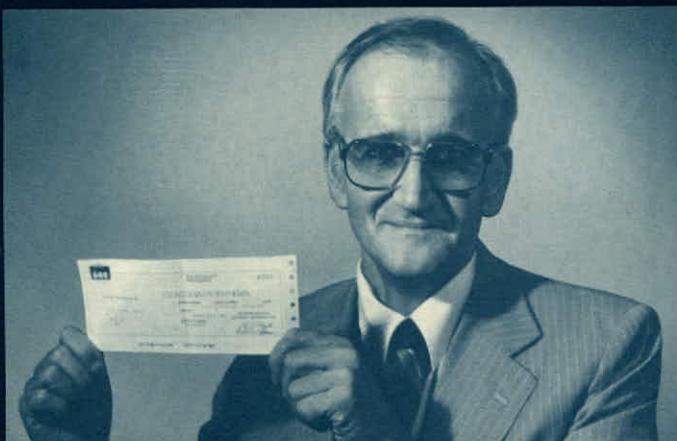

Steve McElroy is very good at hiding things and then forgetting about them. The Winnipeg, Manitoba resident had a LOTTO 6/49 ticket worth $367,079.80 sitting in a drawer for six months — stuffed amongst some old papers! "At least it was safe," said Mr. McElroy of the April 2, 1983 ticket.

Jeffrey B. Gasenzer, of Winnipeg, Manitoba and his wife, Chi-Chi, had no trouble deciding where to spend their $100,000. Just prior to winning on the June 15, 1983 WESTERN EXPRESS draw, the couple had bought their first home. "The money will go to pay off the mortgage," said the Gasenzers, "and the rest will go for renovations and furnishings."

Betty Van Slyke's thirty-first birthday was truly memorable. The Edmonton resident received two WESTERN EXPRESS tickets as a birthday gift from her mother — and one of those tickets was a $100,000 grand prize winner on the March 7, 1984 draw!

Dr. Michael Vaygi has tapped the source of "good luck" in the past few years. The Chase, British Columbia resident has won varying prizes in the SUPER LOTO, LOTTO 6/49 and PROVINCIAL lotteries. On September 17, 1983, Dr. Vaygi recorded his most impressive win — $655,828.10 on the LOTTO 6/49's 9-Number Group Combination!

Dr. Vaygi is in private practise and said he'll continue working, no matter what his future wins amount to.

Mark Peikoff, of Lake Francis, Manitoba, and his in-laws the Campbells, plan to put their $500,000 back into the farm. Winners on the PROVINCIAL September 30, 1983 draw, Mark and his wife Betty Mae have additional plans — decorating a nursery for their first child!

A fortune teller predicted Tony Kolodzinski would win a large sum of money, and if he was skeptical at first, that faded on August 3, 1983. The Lestock, Saskatchewan resident and his wife Nellie's fortunes came true when they won $100,000 on the WESTERN EXPRESS!

It was a string of wins that led Stradie Janakas, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, to his $50,000 bonanza. He won $10 on the WESTERN EXPRESS, $10 on LOTTO 6/49 and re-investing the money in a PROVINCIAL ticket, he got the numbers he was waiting for on March 23, 1984. Mr. Janakas plans to retire his old truck for a brand new car!

For eighteen year old high school student Kevin Coulter, one million cool dollars immediately meant a new truck. But the Estevan, Saskatchewan January 29, 1984 SUPER LOTO winner plans to be prudent with his windfall. "The rest," he said, "I'll invest for my future."

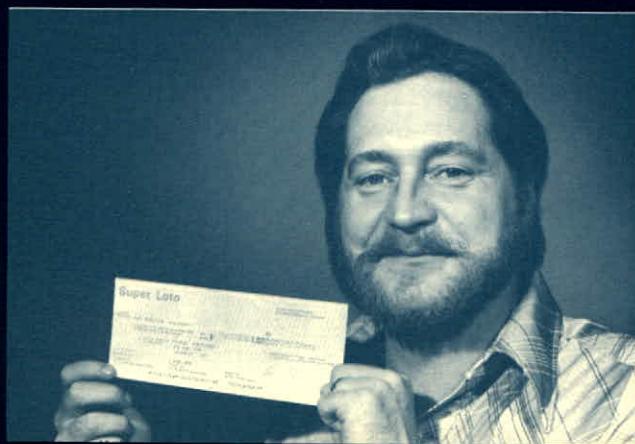

Talk about beginners luck! This Calgary, Alberta duo won $100,000 on a June 8, 1983 WESTERN EXPRESS ticket — the very first time either of them decided to play the lotteries. Both Wendell Murphy and Walter Dionello plan to buy new cars with the windfall . . . and more lottery tickets!

TIC-TAC-TOE, just scratch and win — Harvey Grove, of Moose Jaw Saskatchewan, did exactly that, and he and his wife found themselves staring at an instant $10,000 win!

Twenty-nine year old Dennis Skulsky said the first effect of winning $100,000 was he had to take the afternoon off work. The Public Relations Coordinator with the Edmonton Journal was so excited after the February 29, 1984, WESTERN EXPRESS draw he couldn't concentrate.

Mr. Skulsky and his wife, Marlene, decided on a Hawaiian vacation to help them calm down.

Frank Simpkins is a millionaire. He gained that status after his SUPER LOTO ticket of March 25, 1984 was verified as the winner. The thirty-six year old logger and his wife, Louisa, live in the small British Columbia town of Sechelt, and are adjusting to another new status — parenthood, with the birth of their first child.

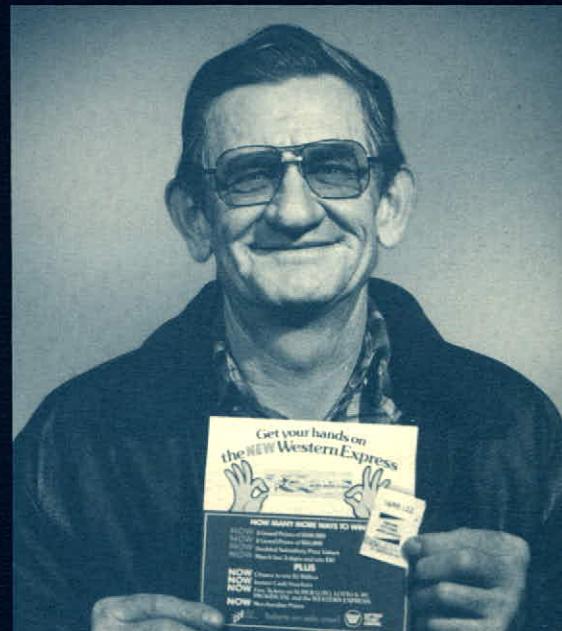

"In three weeks I was so lucky it almost frightened me!" exclaimed Anne Leibel, of Penticton, British Columbia. The forty year old mother of three won a color television, then in June 1983, a Grand Prix car playing SUPER LOTO. That was followed by a video recorder prize, and finally $100,000 on the July 13th WESTERN EXPRESS draw!

The evergrowing popularity of instant lottery games saw the birth of MATCH 3 in October. Smiling broadly is a lucky $10,000 instant winner, Ray Parker of Surrey, British Columbia.

It proved to be a very lucrative Christmas for Antoine Septimus. The Vancouver resident purchased several December 30, 1983 PROVINCIAL lottery tickets as a Christmas gift to himself . . . one of those was a $50,000 winner!

Dish-pan hands and greasy ovens are gone for good in the Quiring family . . . winners of the WESTERN EXPRESS Dream Kitchen. Cornelius Quiring of Steinbach, Manitoba, now owns a side by side refrigerator and freezer, self-cleaning range, dishwasher and microwave oven. He won his Hotpoint kitchen on the February 22, 1984 draw!

When Bert Nadeau realized he was holding a $100,000 WESTERN EXPRESS ticket, his biggest concern was keeping it safe until he could claim his prize. The Charlie Lake, British Columbia resident found an ideal spot. "We stuck it to the back of the freezer," he chuckled. The lucky draw was March 21, 1984.

Pam Myler, of Edmonton, had one great curling game in March. It wasn't necessarily the homemaker's score that made the bonspiel such a success, but rather the discovery between games that her March 9, 1984, PROVINCIAL ticket was worth a $55,555 bonus prize!

Bruce Palin, of Edmonton, heard he'd won $110,052.70 loud and clear — his wife Patricia woke him up at 6:00 a.m. following the February 18, 1984, LOTTO 6/49 draw with her excited yelling. The couple plan to buy a larger home with their windfall.

"Always check your ticket twice," advises Jack Schinkel, of Rosedale, British Columbia. Mr. Schinkel glanced at his July 20, 1983 WESTERN EXPRESS ticket and was about to throw it away. "My retailer said, look again. Now I'm $10,000 richer!"

Ronald and Shirley Harrison are paying off their mortgage with a LOTTO 6/49 $192,149.80 windfall. Mr. Harrison of North Vancouver, won in the five out of six plus bonus category on March 24, 1984!

Sixty-eight year old Mary Terlesky feels her family is lucky. Her brother-in-law won $100,000 on a WESTERN EXPRESS ticket in 1981, and just two years later, her turn came. The Thorsby, Alberta resident was the holder of a $100,000 winning ticket on the July 31, 1983 SUPER LOTO draw!

Don and Margaret Layman have a winning LOTTO 6/49 recipe. The Prince Albert, Saskatchewan couple put forty-nine numbers in a mixing bowl, pulled out six and won $443,481.60! "1984 is lucky," said the Laymans after the January 14, 1984 draw.

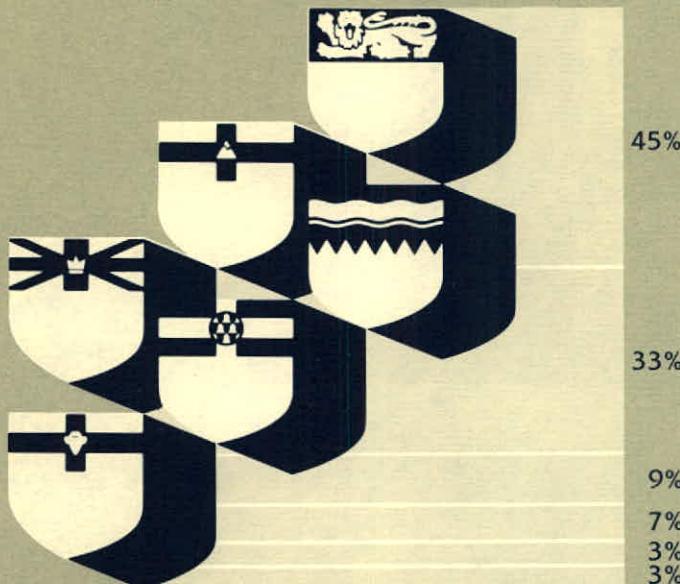

This is more than a friendship; it's a winning team. Rosemary Theedom and Laurie Cook, of New Westminster, British Columbia, have been buying lottery tickets together for years. On June 8, 1983, the friends split a $10,000 WESTERN EXPRESS prize!

The dawn of 1984 brought a New Year's Day celebration never to be forgotten by Mr. G.C. Lawrence. The Richmond, British Columbia gentleman and his wife, Barbara, picked up a $10,000 bonus prize playing SUPER LOTO to bring the year in with style.

DISTRIBUTION OF REVENUE

FISCAL YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1984

Gross Sales = 100%

45% of sales dollars on all of the Foundation's products was committed to prizes during fiscal year 1983/84.

The remaining 55% was distributed as follows:

33% of each sales dollar was returned to the provinces in which the sale was made. The governments of the four provinces and two territories enjoyed total proceeds of $116.2 million, an increase of $59 million over the previous year.

9% of each sales dollar was spent on net operating expenses which includes, salaries, advertising, computer communications, rent, equipment and ticket distribution.

7% of sales dollar receipts was paid to retailers as commissions. Western Canada Lottery Foundation retailers receive 7% on the sale of WESTERN EXPRESS tickets, 8% on SUPER LOTO tickets, 10% on PROVINCIAL tickets and 5% on LOTTO 6/49 and Instant Game sales.

3% of each sales dollar was spent on ticket printing.

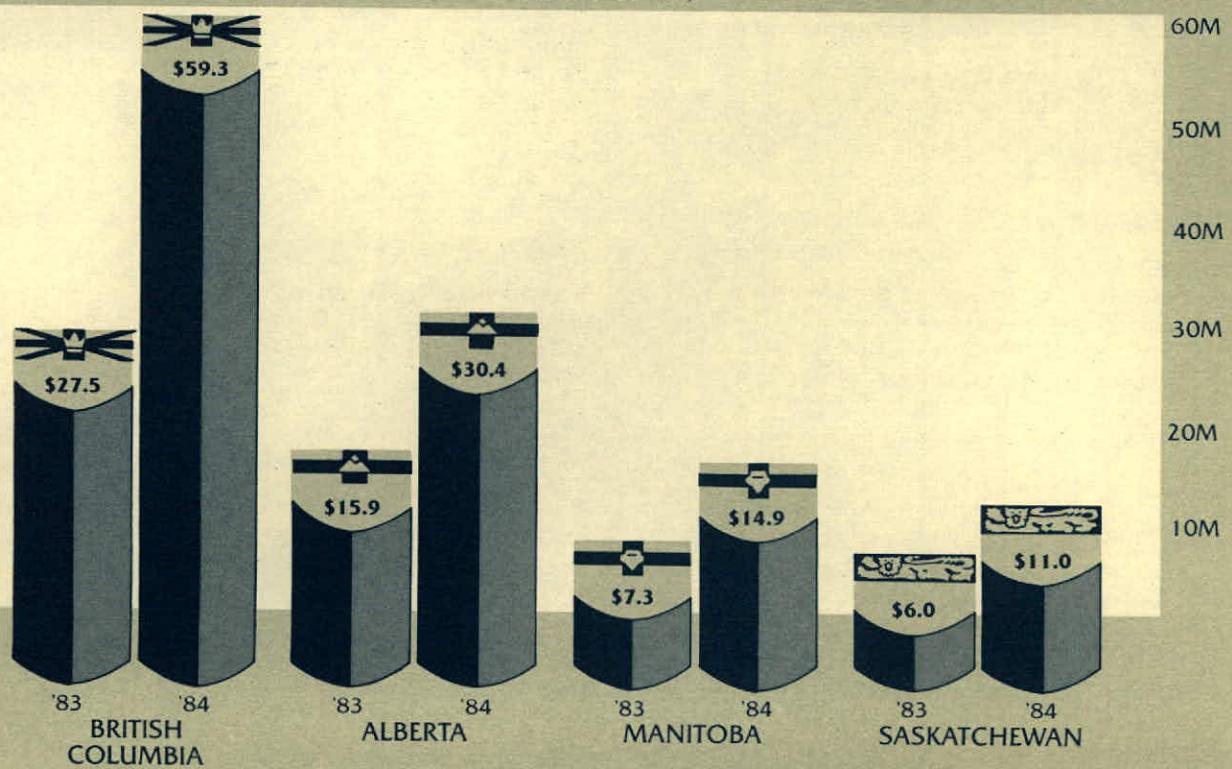

3% of the sales dollar was paid to the Federal Government this year. In the summer of 1979 an agreement was reached between the Provincial Governments and the Federal Government for the withdrawal of the Federal Government from the lottery field. As the result of this agreement, the provinces pay the Federal Government $24 million annually based on 1979 dollars, and indexed to inflation. The Western Provinces share for this year was $10.2 million.

REVENUES TO THE WESTERN PROVINCES

GROWTH IN PAYMENTS TO THE PROVINCES

(in millions of dollars)

The WESTERN EXPRESS, PROVINCIAL, SUPER LOTO, LOTTO 6/49 and Instant lotteries, are providing funds for Western Canada, thereby assisting many organizations to enhance their varied activities.

The province of British Columbia provides lottery funds for culture, physical fitness, amateur sport, special events, heritage, medical research programs, capital projects and to support EXPO 86, The World Transportation Fair to be held in Vancouver in 1986.

In Saskatchewan, revenues from lottery operations are distributed through the "Sask Trust for Sport, Culture and Recreation" to the Western Development Museums, 11 Exhibition Associations, the Sask Sports Hall of Fame, the Administration Centre for Sports, Culture and Recreation, 67 Provincial Sport Governing Bodies, 25 Provincial Cultural Organizations, Recreation Associations, and 233 community groups and organizations actively involved in the promotion and development of sport, culture and recreation.

In the 1983/84 fiscal year, SUPER LOTO and LOTTO 6/49 revenues in Alberta were used to pay off a commitment to the Olds Disaster Fund, originally made by the Federal Government but assumed by Alberta under the 1979 Federal/Provincial Agreement and also to make a number of one-time only payments to some of the larger "A" Class fairs in Alberta. Some of the profits from the EXPRESS and PROVINCIAL go to the Calgary Exhibition & Stampede Limited and Edmonton Northlands to help capital projects carried out by them for the benefit of Albertans generally. The remainder went to a number of foundations and organizations operating province-wide programs in culture and recreation. Important changes in the distribution of profits are due to take effect on April 1, 1984.

The Government of Manitoba allocates lottery revenue to a wide range of projects and programs in sport, recreation, culture and social agencies throughout the province.

Not to be forgotten is the fact that all provinces in Canada combine to contribute in excess of $35 million annually to the Government of Canada for national programs in sport and culture.
