The NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE BOARD

is the oldest research and educational institution for cooperative study of the economic and administrative problems of American business by economists and businessmen. It was founded in 1916 by associations representing twelve branches of industry. Its founders believed that the American voluntary competitive economy, founded on private property and individual liberty, is the one best suited to promote enduring human welfare, and that impartial fact finding and education will keep that system sound and healthy. These principles have been the basis of all the activities of THE CONFERENCE BOARD for thirty-eight years.

The Board is

Scientific. It assembles, analyzes, tests, explains and disseminates facts on human relations in industry, on business organization and operation, and on the basic structure and development of the national economy.

Educational. It conducts conferences and courses on important economic and industrial management problems. It makes its facilities and publications available, at nominal cost, to governmental departments and agencies, and to colleges. It regularly releases its findings to the press.

Nonprofit. It is not endowed, but is supported principally by voluntary contributions and annual subscriptions from large and small business concerns, labor unions, industrial organizations, libraries and individuals.

Wholly independent. It has never been a branch, affiliate, subsidiary, agency or department of any other organization or group, academic, professional, industrial, commercial or political.

Not a government agency. Although it includes appointed representatives of certain government departments and cooperates with government divisions in scientific work, the Board has no political affiliations and does not engage in legislative or political activity of any kind.

Not a trade association or employers' organization. It does not represent the interests of any particular fields or groups. The results of its research are available to persons and organizations in all branches of industry, trade and finance, to educators and other professions, to labor unions and to all who are interested in its work and contribute to its maintenance.

THIS 38th Annual Report marks the close of my fifth year as President of the National Industrial Conference Board. During the administrations of my two predecessors, THE CONFERENCE BOARD served American industry through two World Wars, two periods of postwar adjustment and recovery, the Prosperity Boom of the Twenties, and the Great Depression. And in my own administration we have served through the Korean War and the periods of industrial expansion which followed World War II and Korea and through the latest recession.

For the past eight years, our national life has been darkened by the shadow of the conflict between the free world and Communism. Unfortunately, this shadow instead of lifting has grown ominously darker, until today it threatens us with new aggressions and even the possibility of a third World War.

In this situation one of the basic problems we face as a nation is the strengthening of the economy of the free world, by strengthening our own and by helping the other free nations to help themselves. In the cold war our strongest weapon against Communist infiltration is economic balance and well-being in our own country and among our allies. Securing this balance and well-being is in a great measure our responsibility. Since we are economically the strongest nation in the world, our allies cannot build up their own economic strength without our encouragement. And our own national survival and well-being require this intelligent leadership on our part.

The history of THE CONFERENCE BOARD spans the whole period of our rise to the position of a first-rate Power, and now to our pre-eminence among the champions of freedom. THE CONFERENCE BOARD has made an important contribution to America's industrial efficiency during these years. But any contribution that the Board has made in this regard places upon it an even greater responsibility as we face the momentous problems of the present and the grave uncertainties of the future.

Our Recent Record

Over the past few years the Board has stressed the cooperative and practical character of its relations with industry by the addition of several new Advisory Councils. Also, through our Regional Conferences for both small and large groups of industrial leaders, we have related the Board's service more effectively to the needs of private enterprise in every section of the country.

Our Division of Education now sends, but only on request, more than 1,500,000 Road Maps of Industry—the Board's famous colored economic charts—to high school teachers, educators and ministers throughout the United States and Canada. In addition, the Board is carrying on its own educational project for the direct benefit of industry, through its two-week training course for personnel executives.

We have expanded our conference program by trying out a new idea of having what might be called Single-Subject Conferences, such as the one on Taxes last year, our Marketing Conference last fall, our two annual conferences on "Atomic Energy in Industry," and the three-day meeting this June to discuss the problems of Smaller Companies.

We have also intensified our study in the field of Marketing Research and in other areas; and this past year, under special commissions from a Committee of the United States Senate and two industrial associations, we have prepared three comprehensive special studies.

Brief accounts of the work of the different Divisions of the Board during the past year will be found in their separate reports, which follow; but I want to make clear that our over-all record of achievement through the past five years would not have been possible without the cooperation of all our Officers and Division Directors, and that of a devoted Staff.

The latest extension of the Board's service is the initiation of our new Canadian Department this year under the direction of Mr. Monteath Douglas, formerly Executive Director of the Canadian Tax Foundation. We feel most fortunate to have secured the services of Mr. Douglas to organize and direct THE CONFERENCE BOARD's first office outside the United States. This formal extension of our work to Canada follows many years of service by the Board to Associates in Canadian industry, and it will enable us to develop, by degrees, comparable coverage of the economic and business scene in both countries. This will mean added advantage to the Board's Associates in both the United States and Canada.

An Obligation

In my report last year, I said, "I believe that industry would do well to pay even greater attention in the future than in the past to conditions outside the boundaries of the United States," and that "it is our plan to study more closely the interdependence of the various countries throughout the world."

At the Dinner Session of the 342nd Meeting. L. to R., Board Chairman Cola G. Parker, Chairman of the Board, Kimberly-Clark Corporation; the Honorable Sinclair Weeks, Secretary of Commerce; Trustee Chairman Langbourne M. Williams, President, Freeport Sulphur Company; and John S. Sinclair, President, The Conference Board

In line with what Mr. Erwin D. Canham, Editor of The Christian Science Monitor, said at our Cincinnati Meeting a year ago, we believe that the most effective way of strengthening the free world is to open the channels of communication between the business communities of its various nations. Thus through the mutual exchange of ideas and experiences the business leaders of these countries may draw closer together in their thinking, in their understanding of one another and of their common problems, and in the formulation of world policies for international trade. And on this basis of mutual understanding they may work together more effectively for the peace and prosperity of the whole world.

But as Mr. Canham indicated, what is needed to accomplish this is "a privately organized clearing-house"—just such a clearing-house, it would appear, as THE CONFERENCE BOARD has been for American industry. We feel, therefore, that because of our philosophy, our tradition, and our experience—and because for the past twenty-five years we have had a group of distinguished Foreign Correspondents in the leading commercial countries of the world—the Board has a deep obligation to carry forward this vital work as soon as possible.

Primarily and initially, this means of course the opening of more effective channels of informal exchange between the business leaders of Western Europe and North America. Fortunately for us, it is in these two continents that there are not only the historic roots and richest growth of the institutions of political liberty, but also the greatest concentrations of industrial power. This cooperation is our best hope of avoiding the holocaust of a third World War.

If THE CONFERENCE BOARD can serve the cause of freedom in this way, its leadership is more than willing. We ought to move fast toward making this "clearing-house" of economic information and opinion an effective reality. But here we are confronted with the hard fact of ways and means.

I only need remind you that there is a host of pressing economic and management problems that THE CONFERENCE BOARD ought to be analyzing. Also, many of the Board's older studies dealing with subjects that are perennially important should be brought up to date. The Board's modest income, however, compels it to undertake only those projects that are given the highest priority in the joint judgment of our Advisory Councils and Research Staff. Severe budget limitations have for several years forced the Board to postpone many "desperately needed" studies.

Ray D. Murphy, President, The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, addresses the Dinner Session of the 38th Annual Meeting

Lord Beveridge of Oxford, England, speaking at the Dinner Session of the Board's 38th Annual Meeting

At the Board we are constantly receiving evidence that our new and old friends realize more than ever that THE CONFERENCE BOARD is a truly cooperative institution. So I need hardly stress that the more financial support they give the Board, the more direct assistance it can provide them in solving business problems. I would add that increased support will also enable the Board to contribute more in helping the public understand just what our economy is and how it works.

As we all know, it takes more than guns, bombs and manpower to safeguard our voluntary productive system and other American traditions of freedom. It also takes facts, honest facts—used fully, wisely and fearlessly—to maintain an impregnable defense against any of our enemies.

The Board's Finances

As all of our Associates know, the Board is not an endowed institution but has to earn its living and pay its way by its work from year to year.

Subscription income for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1954, advanced to a total of $1,430,575. Income from the sale of publications, attendance fees at conferences and courses, interest and reimbursement of costs of separately financed research projects brought the Board's total income to $1,693,686.

Additional contributions and interest income amounting to $22,638 during the past year brought the Reserve Fund of the Board to $654,067, or 38.6% of the Board's expenses during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1954 as shown by the Treasurer's Report. Thus, we are still far away from our goal of a Reserve Fund equal to one year's expenses, which would provide an assurance that the Board's research and educational work could be continued during any future period of financial stringency such as we have suffered in the past.

At the year's end, the Board consisted of 16 Members Emeritus, 26 Representatives of Affiliated Organizations, 19 Councillors, 19 Foreign Correspondents, and 235 Regular Members. Subscribing Associates of the Board totaled 3,332, all of whom are listed in Appendix A of this Report.

In closing I want to express my appreciation to the Trustees, Board Members, Associates, Cooperators, and members of our Advisory Councils, all of whom have been of the greatest assistance to the Officers and Staff of the Board in carrying on and advancing our service to American industry. With their continued support of our work and their devotion to the cause of maintaining a strong American economy in these critical days, I am sure THE CONFERENCE BOARD can go forward to an even more significant service to America and to the free world.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN S. SINCLAIR, President

May, 1954

MARTIN R. GAINSBROUGH, Chief Economist and Director

NOTEWORTHY AMONG the Division's studies during the year are those dealing with longer-range and more basic problems of the national economy, including such fields as foreign trade and foreign policy, business-government relationships, and monetary and credit policy. The altered trade position of the United States with the rest of the world was set forth in historic perspective in a study which received serious consideration by the Randall Commission. A companion study, "Economics of Tariffs," has become a standard reference source for all concerned with the pros and cons of this controversial subject. Similarly, an intensive analysis of the postal system and its use by American business was prepared at the request of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Commission. A full-scale discussion was undertaken by The Conference Board Economic Forum and its distinguished guests on the subject of returning to the gold standard.

The bulk of the Division's resources, however, was necessarily focused upon a continuing diagnosis and prognosis of the recession which began in mid-1953. Both the Weekly Desk Sheet and the monthly Business Record were devoted primarily to a systematic analysis of business behavior since Korea, under the stress of recession. With the tapering off of the recession toward mid-year, this emphasis is now shifting toward a study of the probable character of American markets in the so-called "middle years."

Members of the Division again devoted a significant portion of their time and energy in providing special assistance and consultation to the various branches of the government as well as to educational and business organizations and associations.

Major publications by the Division were:

The Economic Almanac, 1953-1954 (12th Edition)

Prices—Costs—Wages (annual color chart book)

The United States and Its Foreign Trade Position (prepared by the Division and published for the National Electrical Manufacturers Association)

A SUBSTANTIAL part of the Division's energies during the past year was devoted to setting up special conferences. The Marketing Conference, held last September, was the Board's first three-day conference and the first devoted entirely to marketing problems. It was attended by nearly 2,000 marketing men and was so enthusiastically received that a one-day version was presented in Los Angeles in March and attracted over 500 marketing men from the West Coast. The Board's second conference on "Atomic Energy in Industry," in October, was attended by more than 1,000 businessmen, scientists, and government officials. These meetings have been called "the most important forum for the exchange of nonmilitary information and ideas on atomic energy." Preparations were also made for the Board's first "Smaller Business Conference," scheduled for June, 1954.

Despite this greatly increased burden of conference work, the Division has pursued its program of basic research in the field of business practices, and has also conducted its monthly surveys of business experience and opinion.

Publications by the Division during the year included:

THE DIVISION has continued its efforts to anticipate as well as to keep up with the needs of the Board's Associates. These efforts can be described briefly as follows:

1. To keep Associates informed of current events and important developments in personnel administration through articles and departments in the Management Record.
2. To pursue basic research in "ferment" areas in the field, and make the results available through the series, Studies in Personnel Policy.
3. To answer Associates' specific questions about prevailing personnel practice.
4. To prepare round-table and general conferences on personnel problems of high interest, as part of the Board's conference program.
5. To provide professional education in personnel administration through comprehensive and concentrated "live-in" seminars.

One research area deserves special note. For several years company executives have shown increasing interest in the problems of corporate organization. This is evident from the growing stream of questions coming to the Board on all phases of organization planning. In order to handle these questions adequately and to make a continuous study of company experience in this area, the Board has added a Senior Research Specialist to devote full time to organization planning and related subjects.

Registrations for the Board's two-week Course in Personnel Administration were so great last year that it was necessary to conduct four sessions. This course, for which Staff Members of THE CONFERENCE BOARD comprise the faculty, will be conducted twice during the coming fall and twice in the spring of 1955.

Reports published during the year were:

Fringe Benefit Packages

Executive Development Courses in Universities

Severance Pay Plans

Management Development

Company Organization Charts

Bulletin Boards

Escalators and the New BLS Index

A PREPONDERANCE of the Division's effort is being directed toward completing the revision of the Board's Consumer Price Index. This project, which will modernize the CPI in line with recent studies of consumer buying habits, is scheduled for completion in August, 1954.

In addition to the index revision, output of the Division consisted of the primary statistical surveys on hourly wage rates and clerical salaries for key jobs in a score of cities and monthly wage adjustments compiled and confirmed by the Board. As this report is written, the Division's biennial survey of executive salaries is being tabulated.

Among the special projects undertaken during the last year, a study of prevailing methods of compensating expatriate employees stands out. Soon after completion of a field study for a Conference Board Associate, the Division began a detailed analysis of industry's practice in this field, and a report should be ready for publication by early fall.

Publications by the Statistical Division during the past year were:

Studies in Labor Statistics

Occupational Wage Rate Survey—1953

General Wage Adjustments in Manufacturing, June, 1950–March, 1954

DURING THE year just closed several Conference highlights should be noted—not only for the effective discussion that was achieved, but also for their contribution to the Board's forward planning for additional Conference activity.

The Marketing Conference in September stimulated such a worthwhile exchange of usable material in the sales field that this fall's opening meeting will be devoted to the same general subject, with stress on techniques and methods.

During the past winter, considerable interest was centered in the great economic debate of 1954: "Recession, Depression or Recovery?" and the Board arranged a highly successful discussion of this controversial subject between Dr. Colin Clark of England and Professor W. S. Woytinsky.

Continuing its pattern for nationwide meetings, the Board held Conferences in Pittsburgh and Los Angeles during the year and has scheduled meetings in Chicago and Houston for the coming year.

The complete Conference schedule for 1954-1955 follows:

NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE BOARD
Information for the Press
Press Release # 1953
For Immediate Release
CONFERENCE BOARD TOP FOR SECOND STRAIGHT MONTH
PROFITABLE YEAR OF 1952 AN EXCELLENT POINT TO GO FOR 1953
New York (UPI) - The conference board index dropped for the second straight month with living costs now 7.1% during the month ending October 15, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. Increases in food, clothing and home appliances pushed the board's index down despite increases in the building and automotive categories. The all-items index for October, 1952 (121.4), however, is still 3.2% above that of a year ago (October, 1951). (One of the board's visual aids, and other subjects. Here Board publications such as Road Maps, chart surveys and selected studies are incorporated as an integral part of the workshop agendas.

Members of the clergy, as is the case with educators, may receive Road Maps of Industry free upon request. More than a thousand clergymen, representing practically every major sect and denomination, have written requesting economic information.

Cooperation has been continued with Advanced Management Courses at many universities. These courses are attended primarily by executives marked for promotion by their respective companies. NICB research materials are used as course texts, collateral reading or references.

The Board's first educational catalog will be mailed to professors of economics, government, business administration, labor relations, and allied courses shortly after the opening of the 1954-1955 school year. The catalog will contain a listing, description and educational price for every Board publication currently in print.

Canadian Department

MONTEATH DOUGLAS, Director

THE CONFERENCE BOARD's services have been known and used in Canada for over twenty years. We now have over eighty Canadian Associates, comprising large and small companies, universities, government departments and other public institutions. More recently there have been increasing requests from our Associates in the United States for information concerning Canadian economic and business conditions.

The decision to establish a Canadian Department with offices in Canada therefore follows an indicated demand from both directions. From the standpoint of the Board's long-term plans it recognizes the increasing interdependence of the American and Canadian economies. By this step the Board will be in a position to render better service to all its Associates, interpreting Canadian conditions to American business, showing what developments in the United States may mean to Canada, and extending its regular studies of economic factors, industrial relations, and organizational problems in the interest of both countries.

The Director will spend several months at the Board's offices in New York familiarizing himself with the organization, and expects to return to Canada to open the new office, which will be in Montreal, toward the end of this year.

TREASURER'S REPORT

For the Fiscal Year Ended April 30, 1954

To Members and Associates of THE CONFERENCE BOARD:

Financial statements of the NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE BOARD, INC. for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1954, and certificate of independent auditors, are presented as part of this report. These statements indicate the continuing growth of the Board and show a satisfactory financial position at the close of the fiscal year.

At April 30, 1954, Operating Fund assets totaled $1,018,604. Items listed on the liabilities side of the statement include accounts payable, accrued items, and reserves, $180,611; revenue applicable to subsequent period operations, $824,384; and Operating Fund balance, $13,609. These current figures compare with Operating Fund assets of $927,185 and Fund balance of $12,681 at the close of the last fiscal year.

Operating Fund income for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1954, was $1,693,686, with expenses of $1,692,758. In the prior year income was $1,458,661 and expenses $1,456,343. Included among the expenses of the fiscal year just ended is a provision of $17,891 for long-range research and development which represents the restoration of charges made to the reserve during the year and an increase in its balance to provide for a committed program of development for the subsequent year.

Steadily increasing demands are being made upon the Board for factual research, for large and small conferences from coast to coast, for expansion of its educational courses, and for a wider range of economic information for its Associates and the public.

To meet these added requirements the Trustees have approved an operating budget that is $144,000 greater than in the year just ended.

Reserve Fund assets at April 30, 1954, were $654,067 compared with $631,429 at the same date last year. The modest increase of $22,638 resulted from contributions of $7,025 and interest earned of $15,613. In general, the Trustees of the Board consider it desirable to have a Reserve Fund about equal to one year's expenses. The Reserve Fund balance at April 30, 1954, represents only 40% of the Board's budgeted expenses in the current fiscal year.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES L. MADDEN, Treasurer
