Seagram
Company
Ltd.*

*Report for the Fiscal Period
August 1, 1982—
January 31, 1983*

The Seagram Company Ltd. is the world's largest producer and marketer of distilled spirits and wines, with subsidiaries and affiliates in twenty-nine countries on six continents. In addition, the Company has a 21.3 percent equity interest in E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company.

As reflected in this Report, the Company has changed its fiscal year to end January 31, enabling the more effective inclusion of Du Pont results, which are reported on a calendar basis.

Report of the Directors to the Shareholders

Economies the world over continued to suffer in the six months from August 1, 1982, to January 31, 1983, adversely affecting demand for distilled spirits and wines. Seagram moved to curtail costs further and to align production capacities more closely with current and probable future demand levels. These steps strengthened the Company's overall financial position.

As announced previously, Seagram's fiscal year now extends from February 1 through January 31, thus enabling the Company more readily to incorporate year-end results from E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company. As a result of this transition, the 1983 fiscal period covered in this Report is only six months, and customary year-over-year comparisons of financial results are not meaningful.

Revenues for the six months ended January 31 totaled $1.5 billion. Operating income for the period totaled $150.5 million, and net income was $125.7 million, or $1.39 on a per-share basis after a three-for-one stock split. These results reflect not only recession-caused trends in our industry but also the relative strength of the U.S. dollar, in which currency our results are reported. Thus, while our overseas operations were generally strong in local currency terms, their profitability is adversely affected when translated into U.S. dollars.

In North America, virtually every spirits category suffered some decline in the second half of calendar 1982, and this trend has persisted into 1983. Notwithstanding these pressures, two of the Company's premium brands—Crown Royal Canadian Whisky and The Glenlivet Single Malt Scotch—showed solid gains. Sales of Lord Calvert Canadian, which is imported from Canada and bottled in the United States, also increased in the fiscal 1983 period. In addition, Seagram's 7 Crown further enlarged its share of the American blended whiskey market.

For the first time in several years, growth of the domestic wine market in the U.S. slowed perceptibly. Paul Masson, which produces and markets premium California wines, evidenced its strength by holding its position when economic conditions caused many consumers to seek lower-priced products. Sales of imported wines in the U.S. grew steadily, however. Partager and Black Tower performed particularly well, gaining market share in the French and German wine categories, respectively.

In Canada, which also witnessed recession-related declines in many spirits categories, Seagram generally maintained—and in some cases improved—market share. Seagram's 83 logged the largest increase of any Canadian whisky, and Captain Morgan White Rum and Wolfschmidt Vodka continued to capture market share. Sir Robert Burnett's Gin also had significant gains.

The Company's performance in Europe was gratifying in local currency terms, with Italy, Germany, Spain and Portugal showing particular strength. Sales of Chivas Regal were solid across the continent, and several of Seagram's other Scotches—including Glen Grant, Passport and 100 Pipers—also increased. Macieira Brandy is still growing dramatically in its home market of Portugal, and sales of B&G Wines advanced in the French domestic market. The Paul Masson Carafes continued to be successful in Europe, and Sandeman Sherry and Port made solid gains. Despite precarious economic conditions in several Latin American countries, Seagram registered some notable successes in this region as well.

Like all consumer products companies, Seagram must keep abreast of—and continually adjust to—changing tastes and preferences in the marketplace. As part of this effort, the Company has moved two new rum products into national distribution in the U.S. after very encouraging test-market programs. Myers's Original Rum Cream and Captain Morgan Spiced Rum each represent a significant opportunity for Seagram as rum continues to grow in popularity.

In recent years, Seagram has also been seeking opportunities outside its traditional spirits and wine business that will both add directly to the Company's profitability and provide potential for the future. One such opportunity involves a recently announced venture with The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of New York, Inc. Seagram and Coke New York have joined to produce and market a new line of premium-quality mixers—Ginger Ale, Tonic Water, Club Soda and Seltzer—called, appropriately enough, Seagram's Mixers. The mixer category represents 250 million of the 4 billion cases of soft drinks sold in the U.S. last year, and it is still expanding at a highly attractive rate.

The process of change and adjustment—essential to the Company's continued vitality—sometimes requires difficult decisions. During the period, Seagram announced the closing of its distillery and bottling plant in Louisville, Kentucky, thereby incurring one-time charges against earnings, primarily for severance payments to employees. These were substantially offset, however, by a gain recognized from the sale of land at 375 Park Avenue in New York.

Dividends received from Du Pont totaled $56.2 million. In addition, the Company's share of unremitted Du Pont earnings in the period was $8.9 million.

With great regret we report the retirement of Harold Fieldsteel, Executive Vice President—Administration and Finance, after forty-two years of devoted service to the Company. For the last ten years especially, he was a pivotal factor in the management of the Seagram enterprise, and we will miss him greatly.

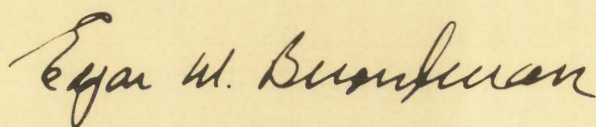

David G. Sacks, who has practiced law for some twenty-five years with the firm of Simpson Thacher & Bartlett and spent five years as Chief Administrative Officer and Member of the Executive Committee of the investment banking firm of Lehman Brothers Kuhn Loeb, has been named to Mr. Fieldsteel's position. Mr. Fieldsteel will not stand for reelection to Seagram's Board of Directors at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders in May, and Mr. Sacks' name will be proposed to the shareholders at this time. Richard Karl Goeltz has been appointed Controller of the Company, a position that had also been held by Mr. Fieldsteel.

At a special meeting of shareholders held on March 10, a three-for-one split in the Company's stock was approved. Seagram now has approximately 90 million shares outstanding.

At its February 2 meeting, the Board of Directors increased the quarterly dividend 13.3 percent to U.S. $.51 per share. After the three-for-one stock split, the quarterly dividend rate is U.S. $.17 per share. The increase reflects our assessment of the current strength of the Company and our confidence in Seagram's future financial results.

As always, we are grateful for the continued loyalty and support of Seagram's shareholders, employees and customers.

On behalf of the Board,

Edgar M. Bronfman
Chairman

March 18, 1983

Highlights

• Spirits and wine operating income and unit volume declined moderately as a result principally of the worldwide recession; revenues from sales outside the United States were lower due to the strength of the U.S. dollar. Spirits and wine after-tax income increased, however, as a result of lower net interest expense and reduced taxes.

• Following the close of the 1983 six-month fiscal period, common shares outstanding were split three-for-one, and the quarterly dividend was increased 13.3 percent.

Adjusted for stock split.

The 1983 fiscal period includes spirits and wine operations for the six months ended January 31, 1983, and the Company's 21.3 percent equity interest in the earnings of E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company for the six months ended December 31, 1982. Results for the 1983 fiscal period are not necessarily indicative of operations for a full year.

For the six months ended January 31, 1983, after-tax income, excluding interest expense related to a share repurchase and unrealized translation losses, declined 16 percent from the comparable period in 1982. Fiscal 1982 after-tax income, before share repurchase interest expense and extraordinary and sundry credits, rose 4 percent over fiscal 1981. The more significant factors affecting the components of Seagram's earnings are discussed in the sections that follow. Quarterly data for the 1981-1983 period are given on pages 20 and 21.

Spirits and Wine

The results of spirits and wine operations were:

The above data include oil and gas activities in Canada and internationally, which were not material.

Seagram is the world's largest producer and marketer of distilled spirits and wines, with subsidiaries and affiliates in twenty-nine countries on six continents. The Company's traditional strength has been in North America where it is the industry leader engaged in all aspects of spirits and wine production and marketing; in other countries, operations consist of one or more of the following activities: distillation, production of wines, sales of local products and distribution of imported goods manufactured principally by affiliates.

Revenues for the six months ended January 31, 1983, declined 9 percent from the first half of 1982; for fiscal 1982 there was a modest gain over 1981 sales. Recessionary conditions and a slack demand in the United States distilled spirits market resulted in a moderate unit volume decline in the U.S. in both the 1983 six-month period and in fiscal 1982. Although unit volume remained virtually unchanged in Canada and internationally, the strength of the U.S. dollar adversely affected local currency revenues upon translation.

To maintain consumer demand for Seagram products, substantial expenditures are made worldwide for advertising and sales promotion. In the 1983 six-month period, these outlays were $141 million, an increase of 3 percent over the comparable prior year period. The fiscal 1982 expenditures were $263 million, a 9 percent increase over 1981.

Operating income for the 1983 six-month period declined 13.5 percent from the year-earlier period but as a percentage of revenues remained at 10.3 percent, the level reached for the full year 1982. To enhance profitability, Seagram continues to emphasize the marketing of premium products, which yield relatively greater profit margins.

During the quarter ended January 31, 1983, Seagram recorded a $15.9 million pre-tax provision for plant closing and severance costs. This accrual reflects estimated expenses associated with the termination of operations at the Company's Louisville, Kentucky, plant and distillery work force reductions in the United Kingdom. Future savings in overhead costs are expected to exceed the one-time expense from these operational changes. Substantially offsetting these expenses was the recognition of a $10.6 million pre-tax gain from a capital lease for the land on which the Company's New York office building, itself sold in 1980, is situated.

After-tax spirits and wine income for the 1983 six-month period rose 9 percent as the Company benefited from lower interest expense and lower taxes. Net interest expense declined because of lower borrowing rates and, to a lesser degree, reduced borrowings. The effective income tax rate for the 1983 six-month period was 30 percent, 8 percentage points lower than the prior comparable period, resulting from a greater proportion of operating income in countries with lower statutory tax rates. The effective rates for fiscal 1982 and 1981 were 38 percent and 37 percent, respectively.

Inflation-adjusted data are presented on page 19, using the current cost method of accounting required by Financial Accounting Standards No. 33 and No. 70.

Du Pont Investment and Dividends Received

Following the 1981 sale of its U.S. oil and gas properties for $2.3 billion, Seagram obtained 20.2 percent of the outstanding shares of Du Pont. Additional shares were subsequently purchased in the market; 50,324,277 shares, or 21.3 percent, are now held. Du Pont is the largest chemical company in North America and, with its acquisition of Conoco, has significant reserves of and operations in oil, gas and coal. For the year ended December 31, 1982, it had approximately $33 billion in revenues, assets of $24 billion and earnings of $900 million.

Seagram's earnings from the 1982 Du Pont investment are as follows:

| (millions) | Six Months | | Fiscal 1982 |
|--|------------|--------|----------------|
| | 1983 | 1982* | |
| Dividends received, after income taxes | $56.2 | $41.9 | $ 95.3 |
| Equity in unremitted earnings | 8.8 | 42.1 | 75.7 |
| | $65.0 | $84.0 | $171.0 |

*Unaudited.

Du Pont's quarterly dividend rate since Seagram's investment has been $.60 per share. For the 1983 six-month period, there were two quarterly dividends; for the comparable 1982 six-month period, there was one quarterly dividend and a special $.35 per share payment. There was no special dividend paid in the 1983 period. Inasmuch as Seagram's initial investment in fiscal 1982 was subsequent to Du Pont's quarterly dividend payment, the earnings for one quarter consisted entirely of unremitted earnings. Therefore, unremitted earnings in the 1983 six-month period were lower than in 1982. Additional factors resulting in reduced unremitted earnings were lower Du Pont profits for the six-month period ended December 31, 1982, and a $4.9 million charge related to a decrease in Du Pont's LIFO inventories.

Extraordinary and Sundry Credits

The Company recognized an extraordinary gain of $1.2 billion after taxes on its 1981 sale of U.S. oil and gas properties to Sun Company. Seagram retains a reversionary interest of 25 percent of future income from producing properties and 49 percent of future income from non-producing properties but shall benefit from the reversionary interest only after Sun has realized certain investment criteria. No value has been assigned to the reversionary interest in the balance sheet. In 1981 the Company also recorded a sundry credit of $15.6 million for the reversal of deferred taxes provided in 1980 related to certain United Kingdom tax credits.

Cash Flow, Asset Management and Debt Levels

A summary follows of the Company's cash flow generated from operations and investments and the use of these funds:

| (millions) | Six Months | | Fiscal Year | |
|--|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|
| | 1983 | 1982* | 1982 | 1981 |
| Funds provided by spirits and wine operations | $137.3 | $136.3 | $176.1 | $178.3 |
| Funds provided by dividends and interim investments (1981) | 56.2 | 57.0 | 110.3 | 180.2 |
| Total funds provided | 193.5 | 193.3 | 286.4 | 358.5 |
| (Increase) decrease in funds invested in operations, net | (94.0) | (148.6) | 6.6 | (74.0) |
| Net funds available | $ 99.5 | $ 44.7 | $293.0 | $284.5 |
| Dividends paid to shareholders | $ 27.1 | $ 25.8 | $ 52.9 | $ 46.5 |

*Unaudited.

Inventories decreased $49.3 million in the 1983 six-month period and $14.9 million in 1982, primarily due to the effect of the strength of the U.S. dollar on translation of inventories held overseas. The Company must maintain a large quantity of ageing inventories, especially Scotch whisky, to meet projected demand as much as twelve years into the future.

Capital expenditures were $45.4 million in the 1983 six-month period and $90.2 million in 1982, compared with $140.3 million in 1981. The Company continues to modernize production facilities, but, in view of the prevailing worldwide recession, emphasis is placed on capital projects forecast to have a material benefit in the intermediate term. Accordingly, a lower level of capital expenditures may be anticipated until the economic environment improves.

The Company's oil and gas subsidiary completed a three-well drilling program in Thailand, which fulfilled the Company's remaining drilling obligation. In Canada the Company increased its reserves of oil and gas to 30 million net equivalent barrels of proved reserves, even though capital expenditures were restricted because of the current economic climate for oil and gas producers.

Short-term and long-term debt less cash and short-term investments totaled $1.2 billion both at January 31, 1983, and July 31, 1982. To fund seasonal working capital requirements, the Company has relied primarily on commercial paper supported by bank credit facilities.

The Company borrows funds in different currencies from various sources. Total interest expense in 1982 of $173.8 million was $56.3 million greater than in 1981 owing to the financing costs associated with the Du Pont investment and the share repurchase, plus a higher average effective interest rate in 1982. Net interest expense for the 1983 six-month period declined from earlier levels due to lower borrowing rates and, to a lesser degree, reduced borrowings outstanding.

With the expected level of funds generated internally from operations and from Du Pont dividends, it is anticipated that total corporate indebtedness will decline over time. Further, no difficulty is anticipated in meeting future financial obligations.

Dividends paid to shareholders have risen steadily from $37.3 million in 1980 to $46.5 million in 1981 and $52.9 million in 1982. Dividends for the six-month 1983 fiscal period were $27.1 million, compared with $25.8 million for the first half of fiscal 1982.

Return to Shareholders*

In the second quarter of fiscal 1982, the Company increased the dividend to an annual rate of $.60 per share. Dividends paid were:

| (millions) | Six Months 1983 | Fiscal 1982 | Fiscal 1981 |

The Company's common shares are traded on the New York, Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver, London and Paris Stock Exchanges. The Company had 13,693 shareholders of record at March 18, 1983. Market prices at January 31, 1983, were Canadian $31.58 and U.S. $25.46. The quarterly high and low prices were as follows:

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Company follows accounting principles generally accepted in both Canada and the United States. The policies described below and the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements are an integral part of the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Principles of Consolidation

The Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of The Seagram Company Ltd. and its subsidiaries consolidated from the date of acquisition on the basis of purchase accounting. Investments and advances relate principally to nonconsolidated affiliates owned 20 percent or more, which are accounted for using the equity method.

Foreign Currency Translation

A substantial portion of the Company's operations relates to subsidiaries in the U.S. and, therefore, the Consolidated Financial Statements are expressed in U.S. currency. Except for operations in highly inflationary economies, all assets and liabilities of companies outside the U.S. are translated using end-of-year exchange rates; revenues and expenses are translated using the average exchange rate for the year. Unrealized currency translation adjustments are deferred in shareholders' equity, whereas realized transaction gains and losses are recognized currently in net income. For operations in countries which are considered to have highly inflationary environments, inventories and property, plant and equipment are accounted for using historical exchange rates, with the related translation effects included in income for the 1983 fiscal period; such translation adjustments were not significant in 1982.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at cost, which is not in excess of market, and consist principally of spirits and wines. Cost is determined by either the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method or the identified cost method.

The LIFO method is used by the Company in the United States, Puerto Rico and Venezuela. Under the LIFO method, the current costs of producing spirits and wines are charged to cost of goods, and the inventory included in the balance sheet reflects the lower production costs of prior periods. In a period of rising prices, the costs of producing spirits and wines are substantially higher than the original production costs associated with the spirits and wines now being sold.

Whiskey inventories in the United States generally mature for 4½ to 8 years.

The Company's general practice is to expense, as incurred, costs associated with the ageing of spirits and wines. In accordance with industry practice, current assets include spirits and wines which, in the Company's normal business cycle, will be aged for varying periods of years.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is determined for financial reporting purposes using the straight-line method over estimated useful asset lives, generally at annual rates of 2-10 percent for buildings, 4-20 percent for machinery and equipment, and 2-20 percent for all other assets.

Income Taxes

Deferred income taxes are provided for items reported for tax purposes in different periods than recognized in the financial statements. Such provisions relate principally to intangible development costs, accelerated depreciation methods, and the treatment for tax purposes of a portion of the proceeds of the sale of the U.S. oil and gas properties as a loan. Deferred taxes are not provided on undistributed earnings of subsidiaries outside of Canada because the Company plans to reinvest such earnings.

Intangible Assets

Product trademarks, distribution rights and patents are carried at nominal value. The excess of cost over amounts assigned to net assets of companies acquired is amortized over varying annual periods, none exceeding forty years.

Pensions

The Company has trustee pension plans covering substantially all of its employees. Pension costs, determined by independent consulting actuaries, are essentially funded as accrued.

Revenue and Expense Items

Sales and other income and cost of goods include duties and taxes on whiskies and other spirits.

Advertising and promotion expenses are charged to income as incurred.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Information for the fiscal 1983 period is for the six months ended January 31, 1983; all prior periods are twelve-month fiscal years.

Note 1: Fiscal Year Change

Effective January 31, 1983, the Company changed its fiscal year-end from July 31 to January 31. Accordingly, the 1983 Consolidated Financial Statements include the results of the Company's spirits and wine operations for the six months ended January 31, 1983, and its equity interest in E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, which has a December 31 year-end, for the six months ended December 31, 1982. Results for the six months are not necessarily indicative of operations for a full year.

Note 2: Equity in Du Pont

In fiscal 1982, the Company acquired 20.2 percent of the outstanding shares of common stock of E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company. The Company has since acquired additional shares through open-market purchases and at January 31, 1983, held 50,324,277 shares, or 21.3 percent, of Du Pont's outstanding common stock.

The Company and Du Pont have entered into agreements providing for mutual board representation and other matters relating to their future relationship. Subject to certain conditions, the Company will not as a general matter exceed a 25 percent holding of Du Pont's voting stock, and Du Pont will have a right of first refusal if the Company offers its Du Pont shares for sale during the term of the agreements. The agreements cover a ten-year period and will be automatically extended for an additional five years unless the Company gives Du Pont notice of its intention to terminate the agreements.

The Company accounts for its investment in Du Pont under the equity method whereby its proportionate share of Du Pont's earnings is included in income. Equity in unremitted Du Pont earnings is included in fiscal 1982 income based on Du Pont's earnings for the period from August 17, 1981 (date of acquisition) to June 30, 1982, as adjusted principally for interest expense of $29.2 million, less $13.4 million income tax benefit, related to the financing costs associated with the Du Pont holdings. Fiscal 1983 income includes unremitted Du Pont earnings for the six months ended December 31, 1982, as adjusted principally for $10.7 million in interest expense, less $4.9 million income tax benefit. Unremitted Du Pont earnings of $84.7 million are included in consolidated retained earnings at January 31, 1983; no provision has been made for taxes on dividends which could result if these undistributed earnings were remitted.

Dividends from Du Pont were $60.4 million in the 1983 six-month period and $102.3 million in 1982, for which $4.2 million and $7.1 million of income taxes, respectively, were provided.

The $401 million excess at acquisition of the Company's carrying value above its equity in Du Pont's net assets was allocated primarily to Du Pont's LIFO inventory. Amortization of $4.9 million was charged against unremitted Du Pont earnings for the six months ended January 31, 1983, due to a decline in Du Pont's LIFO inventory. The portion allocated to property, plant and equipment and long-term borrowings is being amortized over varying annual periods, none exceeding fifteen years.

Summarized financial information for Du Pont, based upon its publicly reported financial statements, is presented below:

Note 3: Extraordinary Gains and Note Receivable from Sun Company, Inc.

In fiscal 1981, the Company sold its United States oil, gas and related properties to Sun Company, Inc., for $2.3 billion. A gain of $1.2 billion, after provision for deferred income taxes of $616 million, was recorded as an extraordinary item. The results of this discontinued operation for fiscal 1980 and to August 29, 1980, the date of sale in fiscal 1981, are presented in the Consolidated Statement of Income under the caption "Income from discontinued operations."

Under the terms of sale, the Company retains a reversionary interest, 25 percent in producing properties and 49 percent in nonproducing properties, which entitles the Company to participate if Sun achieves certain investment criteria; no value has been assigned to this reversionary interest for financial statement purposes. For tax purposes, a majority of the gain has been treated as an installment sale and the remainder as a loan. The tax provision relating to the loan required assumptions as to future oil and gas prices and costs and results of exploration and development and, therefore, may be subject to adjustment by the Internal Revenue Service. Management believes that any changes in the tax provision will not be materially adverse to the Company's financial position.

The Company holds a \$900 million note receivable on the sale from Sun which is due in four annual installments commencing August 29, 1986. The note bears interest as follows: at 12.7125 percent on \$225 million; at 11.25 percent on \$225 million; and on the balance at $\frac{3}{8}$ of 1 percent above the interest rate for ninety-day prime commercial paper placed through dealers.

The Company has obtained from a consortium of banks an advance of \$810 million against the Sun note. The advance is nonrecourse as to principal and bears interest at a rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 percent above the London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR). The advance is repayable in four annual installments commencing December 22, 1986. In view of the foregoing, the note receivable is net of the advance in the Consolidated Balance Sheet, and the related interest income and expense are offset in the Consolidated Statement of Income. Included in 1983 cash and short-term investments is \$96 million which is restricted to interest payments on this arrangement.

In fiscal 1980, the Company sold its New York City office building. Simultaneously, a lease was entered into for approximately one-quarter of the facility for fifteen years with an option to renew for three additional ten-year periods. Accordingly, $17,875,000 of the total $33,645,000 after-tax gain on the sale was deferred and is being amortized over a fifteen-year period.

Note 4: Credit Arrangements and Long-term Indebtedness

Short-term borrowings at January 31, 1983, consisted of bank borrowings of $125,194,000 and commercial paper of $321,197,000. The interest rates on these short-term borrowings were at the prime rates or their equivalent.

The Company's unused lines of credit at January 31, 1983, totaled $968,318,000, including $545,000,000 in revolving credit agreements of the Company's United States subsidiary, Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc.

Long-term indebtedness consisted of:

| | $742,288 | $706,166 |

On December 22, 1980, Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., entered into a \$1.38 billion Revolving Credit Agreement. Borrowings bear interest at a rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 percent above LIBOR. There is a fee of $\frac{3}{8}$ of 1 percent on the unused portion of the commitment. Borrowings outstanding at December 22, 1983, are repayable in nine semi-annual installments commencing December 31, 1983. Under the terms of the revolving credit facility, amounts repaid may be reborrowed at any time until December 22, 1983. The credit facility may be cancelled at the Company's option, and \$670 million was cancelled August 13, 1982.

In November 1981, the Company repurchased a portion of its outstanding common shares using the proceeds from an unsecured \$300 million five-year term loan bearing interest at $\frac{3}{8}$ percent above LIBOR until November 1984, and $\frac{1}{2}$ percent above LIBOR thereafter. The loan is repayable in four annual installments commencing November 1983. The interest expense associated with this debt, less income tax benefits of \$7.6 million in 1983 and \$14.1 million in 1982, has been shown separately in the Consolidated Statement of Income in order to obtain comparability among the periods presented.

In October 1982, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company issued in the United Kingdom £50 million of 12½% Debentures due October 31, 2012. By agreement with the underwriters, the subsidiary received £12.5 million of the proceeds upon issuance and will accept delivery of the remainder on March 31, 1983. At January 31, 1983, the U.S. dollar equivalent of the proceeds received and recorded as long-term debt was $19 million. The remaining proceeds, approximately $57 million as of January 31, 1983, will be recorded as long-term debt upon delivery.

Interest expense on long-term indebtedness was $34.6 million in 1983, $84.8 million in 1982, $51.9 million in 1981 and $59.3 million in 1980. Annual repayments and redemptions for the five years subsequent to January 31, 1983, are as follows: 1984—$105.7 million; 1985—$177.5 million; 1986—$125.0 million; 1987—$124.4 million; 1988—$49.6 million.

Note 5: Income before Income Taxes and Information Regarding Income Taxes

| Income tax provision applicable to spirits and wine operations | $ 33,416 | $ 67,437 | $ 57,450 | $72,682 |

The Company's effective income tax rate for income from spirits and wine operations differed from the statutory rate in the United States due to the following factors:

| | 1983 | 1982 | 1981 | 1980 |
|--|------|------|------|------|
| Statutory rate | 46% | 46% | 46% | 46% |

| United States investment tax credit | — | (1) | (1) | (1) |
| United Kingdom stock appreciation relief | (4) | (6) | (10) | — |
| Effective income tax rate | 30% | 38% | 37% | 49% |

Since 1973 the United Kingdom has permitted companies to mitigate the effects of inflation by deferring certain income taxes related to the value of inventories (Stock Appreciation Relief, SAR). Major modifications to the law were made in 1981, providing that SAR benefits from prior years would be virtually permanent; therefore, in 1981 deferred taxes provided in 1980 were reversed as a sundry credit to income. SAR benefits recognized both for financial reporting and tax purposes were: 1983—$4.6 million; 1982—$10.6 million; 1981—$15.5 million.

Various taxing authorities have proposed or levied assessments of additional income taxes for prior years. Management believes that settlements will not have a material effect on the financial position of the Company.

Note 6: Common Shares

The Company is authorized to issue an unlimited number of common shares without nominal or par value. After adjustment for a three-for-one stock split effective March 18, 1983, average common shares outstanding were: 1983—90,170,352; 1982—94,711,650; 1981 and 1980—105,232,200.

Note 7: Pension Plans

Pension costs were $12.1 million in 1983, $20.4 million in 1982, $24.7 million in 1981 and $22.8 million in 1980.

Based on valuation data as of July 31, 1981, the actuarial present value of accumulated plan benefits totaled $223 million, most of which was for vested employees. The weighted average assumed rate of return used in determining the actuarial present value was 9 percent. Net assets of the pension plans measured at market value were $235 million.

Note 8: Geographic Data

Financial information relating to significant geographic areas is presented below. Sales to unrelated parties reflect shipments made to locations both within and without each geographic segment. Sales among geographic areas include intercompany transactions on a current market price basis.

Income earned on notes receivable from Sun and applied to interest expense amounted to $15 million in 1983 and $21 million in 1982. This classification reflects the Company's intention to reduce indebtedness associated with spirits and wine operations as Sun liquidates the note receivable included in the balance sheet. In 1981, interest income on these notes was included in the caption "Income from dividends and interim investments in 1981, after income taxes" because the ultimate disposition of the principal was not known.

Note 10: Supplementary Financial Data Adjusted for the Effects of Changing Prices (Unaudited)

The U.S. Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has adopted rules requiring disclosure of supplementary financial data adjusted for the effects of changing prices. In accordance with procedures recognized as experimental by the FASB, the adjustments for changing prices in the accompanying supplementary schedules are based upon the current cost method of accounting for inflation. The primary financial statements are in compliance with Financial Accounting Standard (FAS) No. 52 for foreign currency translation. Accordingly, current cost adjustments presented herein comply with FAS No. 70, Financial Reporting and Changing Prices: Foreign Currency Translation, using the translate-restate method.

The current cost method of inflation accounting adjusts reported income for the estimated effect on cost of goods and depreciation expense from changes in specific prices of inventory and property, plant and equipment after they are acquired. Inventories are restated to current cost based upon most recent manufacturing costs. Specific indices are used to determine the current cost of property, plant and equipment.

The cost of goods adjustment under current cost is mitigated by the use of the last-in, first-out inventory method (LIFO) in the historical cost financial statements wherever permitted under local tax law; LIFO cost in most instances is identical to current cost. Depreciation expense is higher under current cost than historical cost as a result of the increase in costs of construction and machinery and equipment over the past decade. The FASB standards permit no modification of income tax as reported in the primary financial statements to accommodate tax effects normally associated with incurring higher costs.

The current cost method involves the use of assumptions, estimates and subjective judgments. In determining the effects of inflation on operations, no consideration has been given to savings emanating from efficiencies or technological improvements associated with replacing property, plant and equipment. The adjustments to reported income should not be viewed as precise measurements of the effects of inflation.

Auditors' Report

To the Shareholders of The Seagram Company Ltd.

We have examined the consolidated balance sheets of The Seagram Company Ltd. and its subsidiary companies as at January 31, 1983 and July 31, 1982 and the consolidated statements of income, retained earnings and changes in financial position for the six months ended January 31, 1983 and for each of the three years in the period ended July 31, 1982. Our examinations were made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these consolidated financial statements present fairly the financial position of the companies as at January 31, 1983 and July 31, 1982 and the results of their operations and the changes in their financial position for the six months ended January 31, 1983 and for each of the three years in the period ended July 31, 1982, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

(4) Due to depreciation of the Canadian dollar, dividends measured in U.S. currency declined, although the amount paid in Canadian funds increased to C$31,780,000 in 1978 from C$29,745,000 in 1977. Since fiscal 1980, dividends have been declared in U.S. currency.

(5) All per share statistics retroactively reflect a three-for-one stock split effective March 18, 1983. After adjustment for this stock split, average shares outstanding were: 1983—90,170,352; 1982—94,711,650; 1981-1974—105,232,200.
