Dear Penfield:

Thanks for the copy of your article written for the Princeton Alumni Weekly. I am just in the business of acknowledging my mail, and the reading of the article, which from its title I know I shall be interested in going over carefully, must come a bit later.

I am so pleased that the Institute is satisfactory to work in. I want to get up to Montreal sometime before your cooler weather begins and shall look forward with great pleasure to seeing you in situ.

Yours sincerely,

Alan Gregg
