

Dear Helen,

I was going over some of my DeFord papers and found the enclosed, which I thought would interest you.

Wilder sent the telegram and wrote the letters and postal cards while he was in Dover after the torpedoing of the Sussex. I do not know who the lady visitor was that Dr. Fairlie Clarke mentioned in his letter, but I am sure that she was very respectable. The note on the back of that letter was from Lady Oslor.

I certainly enjoyed my dinner and visit with you last year, and hope that I shall soon have an opportunity of going to Canada again.

With best wishes to Wilder and you, I am

Yours sincerely,
Dave
