

To the Committee on Appointment of Rhodes Scholars: -

Mr. W. G. Penfield was a student of mine last year in the courses given in Junior Psychology and the History of Philosophy. In both of these subjects he attained a standing of 'first group' - our highest grade. He is a man of the finest conscientiousness who attends with the utmost fidelity to every trust committed to his care. In the extra-curriculum activities of the University he has taken a leading and successful part. He has an attractive and altogether manly personality, and is respected and liked by both his fellow-students and his teachers. I recommend him to the consideration of the Committee as the possessor of just such qualities of mind and character as were contemplated by Mr. Rhodes in the establishment of the Scholarship.

R. B. C. Johnson
Professor of Philosophy

Princeton, N. J.
December 18/12.